

Conch Republic

Pledge of Allegiance

I Pledge Allegiance to the Flag, of my tiny Island nation.
And to the Republic for which it stands.
One Nation under the Sun. 'Indivincible.'
Where the Liberty is True, and the Justice is Divine.

We Seceded Where Others Failed!
Long Live the Conch Republic!

Battle Hymn of the Conch Republic

*Words by First Sea Lord, Admiral Finbar Gittelman © 2014

Mine eyes have seen the glory of the sunshine and the sea
Right here upon our islands, where we love to live so free
But in April 1982, the peace was not to be

And we went rolling on

They were setting up a check point, tween the mainland & the Keys
They had put a US Border, where it shouldn't 'oughta' be
So that's when we seceded, and declared our sovereignty

And the fun had just begun

We went forth into the harbor and a cutter we did spy
And we sailed up alongside her and we took her by surprise
We hoisted up our battle flag, so proudly and so high

And we went sailing on

Well, the water and Conch fritters and the Cuban bread did fly
And our bombers, they were raining toilet paper from the sky
And our cannons they did thunder to proclaim our victory

And we fought bravely on

We have faced the silly forces of misguided zealotry
We have stood up to their foolishness for all the world to see
And we've showed the other nations what America can be

From Key to shining Key

CHORUS

Glory, Glory Conch Republic
Glory, Glory Conch Republic
Glory, Glory Conch Republic*

Then REPEAT last line of stanza just sung*
